

Power Cuts and the Network

Customer information · October 2026

Kestrel Energy is your electricity supplier. The cables, substations and meters are run by the regional network operator, which is responsible for fixing power cuts. We share live outage information for Leeds, York, Sheffield, Bradford, Hull.

My power is off – what should I do?

1. Check your fuse box: if a switch has tripped, unplug appliances and reset it. 2. Check whether your neighbours have power – if they don't, it's likely a power cut. 3. Check the outage map in the Kestrel app or ask our voice assistant. 4. Call 105, the free national power-cut number, to report it or get updates.

Safety first: if you smell burning, see sparks or a fallen power line, keep well away, don't touch anything, and call 999. Customers who rely on electricity for medical equipment should join the Priority Services Register.

Planned outages

The network operator gives at least 2 days' notice of planned work. We post it in the Kestrel app and text affected customers who have notifications turned on. Planned work usually lasts between 4 and 8 hours.

Compensation for long power cuts

If an unplanned power cut lasts longer than 12 hours in normal weather, you may be entitled to a compensation payment from the network operator. Our customer team can help you claim.

Smart meters

Smart meters are installed free of charge. They send readings automatically, so every bill is based on actual use, and they let you see your half-hourly consumption in the app. Book an installation in the app or ask the customer team.
